The Internet has revolutionized the way the world communicates. In its best form, it is an unmatched resource for education and information exchange. ICDD.COM strives to meet the information and communication needs of ICDD members, customers, scholars, professionals, grant-in-aid participants, developers, and students. Recently, ICDD has focused on creating a time-saving, easy, and informative area to open up opportunities for dialogue and information.

In efforts to streamline the visitor's path, ICDD has created two portals to often requested and used resources:

- Academic Services - A portal to grants, scholarships, tuition waivers, product discounts, awards, financial support of global meetings, and more.
- Research Tools - A portal to ICDD's on-line collections of articles and abstracts.

This poster is a report on new and existing resources at ICDD.COM.
